Spyware Removal Programs a Growing Necessity

Protecting Your PC From Hackers to Prevent Identity Theft Becoming a More Common Battle

3/18/04 - With more and more people taking to the internet on a daily basis, so to are the number of hackers and spam marketers hoping to infect your home PC with programs to obtain your personal information for annoying marketing strategies (pop ups, spam email, etc.) or even worse, capture sensitive information about you for identity theft schemes.

"It's unfortunate that there are those types of people out there doing that sort of thing," says Spy Tools Directory lead editor Steve Salm. "Identity theft happens every day, and its one of the most difficult things to recover from once it's happened to you."

The Spy Tools Directory category, "Spyware Removal" (<http://www.spy-tools-directory.com/spy-software/spyware-removal.html>), contains an extensive listing of computer programs used to identify and remove those types of hacker programs, as well as protect your PC from becoming vulnerable to attacks from hackers.

"We recommend these spyware removal programs to every computer user the same as we would anti-virus or firewall programs. It's that important," said Salm. "There are a growing number of hackers using methods that are not detected by anti-virus or firewall programs, and in many cases spyware removal programs are the only way to stop them."

Many of the spyware removal software websites listed in the Directory offer free online computer scans to see if your PC is infected.
